What the growers use!
SuperMoss® Orchid Bark, Mini Orchid Bark, and Orchid Potting Mix contain natural White Fir tree bark. Its size and density make it an ideal potting medium for orchids. It allows for great oxygenation and drainage of water so that the orchid's roots have constant access to both water and oxygen. This mimics an orchid's natural environment and helps it grow to its full potential. Available in attractive retail packaging or in bulk quantities.

BENEFICIAL BAT HOUSE

Walnut Stain 15.5" x 8" x 23"	6	56200
----------------------------------	---	-------	--

A single little brown bat can eat over 1,200 garden pests, flies, & mosquitoes per hour!

Bats are nocturnal mammals with a large appetite for the bugs that destroy our gardens and bother us in the evenings. Having bats around allows you to rely less on chemical sprays and pesticides. In addition to pest control, bats are also important pollinators. A wide array of plants rely on bat populations. A bat house is a great way to embrace this wonderfully beneficial species that humans rarely see but live right in our backyards!

Install your Bat House on a wooden post or a building.

Ideal for Succulents, Mosses, and Grasses!

The SuperMoss® Jade & Amber Plantable Birdhouses are a cute way to plant everything from succulents to mosses to grasses. They have a small container on top with a plastic liner to keep the soil and water out of the birdhouse. The Amber features a functioning birdhouse with a side clean-out door. They are great for floral projects, crafting, or gardening planters!

Beneficial for home & organic gardening!

Your Pollinators and Beneficial Bugs need a home in your garden! Our BB Houses are a fun and practical addition to your home garden. They are perfect for kids to learn about organic farming, predatory insects, and pollinators. The houses harbor beneficial bugs that keep insects such as aphids off our plants. Pollinators use the houses to develop from egg to adulthood, where they can help facilitate the reproduction of flowering plants! Help host these essential species right in your garden!

Solitary Bees are typically stingless and excellent pollinators. Since females can't depend on a hive, they must build their nests in hollow logs—which are rarely found in modern gardens. Solitary bee populations are in serious decline, and desperately need our help!

Ladybugs are cute, happy and friendly beetles that spend the winter sleeping in woodchips. In the spring and summer, they are ready to enter the garden and eat aphids!

Lacewings are welcome in the garden because of their voracious appetite for plant-eating pests. They nest between pieces of wood and devour aphids, leafhoppers, whiteflies, mites and caterpillars.

Butterflies are important pollinators that love the color red! They slip through the slits to hibernate from winter until spring, when they are warm enough to fly again.

Earwigs are beneficial protectors of fruit trees and vegetable gardens. They are principally nocturnal animals with a taste for aphids and plant lice.

Set your house up in a sheltered area of your garden or away from the prevailing wind

Solitary bees love warm sun to help them get out and about on a cold day. Your house will become fully occupied more quickly if it is located close to an existing insect hotspot: a hedge, bank of nectar-rich flowers or a pond, for example.

Beneficial Bug House

Ladybugs are active in the day and will leave the house in search of food.

Select a visible yet protected location in your garden to mount your ladybug house. Look for an area where you can mount it off the ground but still near your plants. Ideally, choose a south-facing location that will get at least 4 hours of sunlight per day. Fill the inside of your Lady Bug House with natural Aspen Excelsior or wood shavings. Source ladybugs from your local garden center or online.

Create a hanging garden or place in decorative dish

Kokedama literally translates to “moss ball” in Japanese! It's a tradition in Japanese gardening that wraps a plant's root ball in moss for it to be hung or placed on a dish. Kokedamas look stunning with orchids, bromeliads, succulents, Asian plants, herbs and vines. Place them indoors or outdoors, on kitchen counters or bathroom counters, on coffee tables or dining room tables! Our Kokedama Kits include everything but the plant, so all you have to do is choose!

Making a Staghorn Fern is easy to do!

Staghorn Ferns are easy to care for and have a unique modern look that can be used in many spaces. They are epiphytes, which means they are air plants. Staghorn Ferns will gladly grow on a wall mount, which lets air circulate around them. These ferns are called Staghorn Ferns since they resemble the antlers of deer or moose.

Hang on the wall as an elegant piece of natural art that captivates any space or use on a table for an effortless tablescape design.

SuperMoss® Frames can be as simple or as intricate as you make it!

Biophilic design relies on the art of using natural preserved plants, mosses, lichens, and wood branches to bring elements of nature indoors. This art form is increasingly popular in architecture & interior design, where its primary goal is to create a serene green space to live and work. Moss Walls not only look very impressive indoors, but they also provide natural sound absorption, which makes them a great option for loud environments like restaurants, offices, or living rooms.

Make your own succulent wreath!

You can plant directly into the Sphagnum Moss Wreath without using any soil because the moss is highly absorbent and retains all the moisture, air, and nutrients your plants need to thrive. Our wreaths are durable and will last multiple seasons. Each wreath comes with planting instructions and care sheet. For indoor wreaths, try decorating with dried flowers and natural elements by simply poking the stems directly into the moss.
